

A Modern Piano & Strings Quartet

Wednesday, May 13, 2026, 12 pm -1 pm
South Tower Healing Garden

Join us on the plaza for an exciting performance by a modern piano and strings quartet! Combining a trio of strings with keyboards and vocals, this small ensemble will play music ranging from orchestral opera to Disney classics and Motown. The group is led by Dr. Michael Murata, a project scientist here at Cedars-Sinai, on keyboards and vocals. Joining him are Dr. Christine Liu who is a postdoctoral scientist in the Center for Neural Sciences and Medicine on viola, Niall Taro who is an Academy Award winning orchestrator on cello, and Miko Shudo who is a graduate of the Bob Cole Conservatory of Music at Cal State Long Beach on violin and vocals.
