

From Many Eyes: An Exploration of World Design Through Lighting Scenarios

Thursday, October 23, 2025 10:00-18:00

Please join us for this exciting workshop where we get to watch accomplished designers create their own versions of lighting scenarios that we give them and that you suggest. There will be plenty of time to interact with the designers, the console, and the rig in the Light Lab. While we hope that you will be able to join us for the whole day, please feel free to join us for any of the individual sessions for a glimpse of what these excellent designers are creating.
